

Ernst A. Hegenbarth

Creative Ceramic Color: A Practical System

Creative Ceramic Color: A Practical System

Ernst A. Hegenbarth
Master Dental Technician
Bruchköbel
Federal Republic of Germany

Translated by
Henry M. Koehler, MS

Quintessence Publishing Co, Inc 1989
Chicago, London, Berlin, São Paulo, Tokyo, and Hong Kong

Contents

Introduction	7
<hr/>
Chapter 1 Teeth and Esthetics	9
The natural anterior tooth	13
Variations in anterior tooth surfaces	21
Analogies in the structure of natural anterior teeth	27
Horizontal color variations	28
Distribution of translucency	35
<hr/>
Chapter 2 Physical-Optical and Materials Science Fundamentals	37
Scientific aspects of the fundamental theories of color in materials	37
The dimensions of color: Hue, value, chroma	39
Metamerism	40
The significance of translucency	40
Summary	41
<hr/>
Chapter 3 Shade Selection	43
Light and perception of color	43
Shade guides and shade determination	44
Fabricating a custom shade guide	51
Photography as an aid in color design	55
<hr/>
Chapter 4 The Creative Color System	57
The colors of the Creative Color System	59

Contents

Chapter 5	Tooth Types of the Creative Color System	67
	Variations in light, "youthful" teeth	69
	Variations in "middle-aged" teeth	77
	Variations in dark, "aged" teeth	84
	Variations in mandibular anterior teeth	91
	Variations in canines	96
	Variations in posterior teeth	103
<hr/>
	Acknowledgments	109
<hr/>		